

Dear parents and carers,

I hope that you are well.

I'm writing to give you an update on Houlton School's brand-new primary provision which has its first intake this September.

It's a real privilege for us to be creating a dedicated all-through educational provision that means we can support every child right from the start of their educational journey through to young adulthood.

As you may have seen when you have visited our school recently, the new school building for primary pupils is going up at an incredible pace. It is set to be an impressive space for our youngest children to learn.

We will also be welcoming a new Head of School for Houlton Primary into our Houlton family. Becky O'Neill, an experienced Headteacher and early years specialist – who some of you may know from her time at Henry Hinde School – will be taking on this role and is already overflowing with ideas for making Houlton Primary as special and unique as our secondary provision.

In addition, we are delighted that we will also be welcoming our first Sixth Form students next year. It was a pleasure for the Sixth Form team to meet with all the applicants recently and formal place offers have been shared. We've got a great range of courses planned, as well as some fantastic personal development and enrichment opportunities.

As our Houlton School family expands, so does our wider school community, and we are so excited to build on these relationships and create even more opportunities for our children and young people to grow, achieve and thrive.

If you have any questions about Houlton Primary, please don't hesitate to get in touch via hello@houlton.tlet.org.uk

Warmest regards,
