Deadline: 28th June 2022

Prize: Money paid directly to you

The Natural Robotics Contest

If you've ever watched an animal (or plant!) and thought 'Why can't we do it that way?', this is the place for you.

Perhaps a robotic woodpecker that checks trees for disease? Maybe a robot falcon protecting the eggs of sea turtles? Or a mechanical plant that reinforces a riverbank?

How to enter: It's simple! All you need is an idea for a robot, inspired by nature, that can do something to help the world.

You'll need a drawing of your robot and a short description of what it does. We're looking for creativity and potential impact, not drawing ability, so you don't need to be an artist to win!

Deadline: 28th June 2022

Prize: Your robot will be made by expert designers!
